Community Nursing Care Plans

A community meeting if there is enough community interest.

Measuring and Improving Quality in Home and Community

If any such concerns are raised by community members at any time during the health assessment process, you should contact the EJ program to determine the next steps with regard to these concerns. The community associated with a site is both an important resource for and a key audience in the public health assessment process. Different meeting formats will be suitable depending on the purpose of the meeting and the information needs and preferences of the site community.

Overview

Compiling and determining how to address community health concerns If no community health concerns are identified, note the community involvement efforts taken to determine the concerns. Provides a framework for the communication of health risk information to diverse audiences.
