HarperCollins - TRANSCEND MEDIA SERVICE » A Gathering Global Storm

Phase of capitalist development	Predominant temporal/spatial organizational structure	Spatial changes within each territory	Predominant means of transmitting knowledge and exercising surveillance
Liberal	Large-scale, self-sufficient empires that had been built up around domestic rulers or world religions; emergence of weak nation states	Growth of free pockets of industry; importance of substantial commercial cities as well as the expansion of new urban centers in rural areas	Handwriting and word mouth
Organized	Nation states within the ten or so major Western economies increasingly dominate large parts of the rest of the world through colonization	Development of distinct regional economies organized around growing urban centers. Major inequalities between new industrial and non-industrial regions and nations	Printing developed through first capitalism
Disorganized	Development of world economy, as international division of labor, and the wide-spread growth of capitalism in most countries	Decline of distinct regional/national economies and of industrial cities. Growth of industry in smaller cities and rural areas, and the development of service industry. Separation of leisure and industry	Electronically transmitted information dramatically reduces the time-space distances between people and increases the powers of surveillance

Countries are so last

The relation between racism and ethnic nationalism reached its height in the 20th century and. The most momentous development of our era, precisely, is the waning of the nation state: its inability to withstand countervailing 21st-century forces, and its calamitous loss of influence over human circumstance.

Nation state

Cities and regions now engage in their own forms of foreign economic policy in such diverse fields as industrial policy, research and development, technology transfer, market development, tourism development, labour markets, etc. Helen Mauri Ora the fore-runner was a multi-million dollar trial, yet the funds were diverted into Iwi building projects.

A New World Made to Order: Making Sense of the Future in a Global Era

There is now growing that John Tamihere, a Whanau Ora commissioning agent, will contest the seat for the Maori Party. In the agreements, the Indians promised to cease hostilities with the United States, to end attacks on other tribes and to withdraw from existing roads or any others later established. In addition, of course, intra- as well as international rivalries are involved in the inter-local competition for inward investment, reskilling etc.

The Erosion of the Nation State

Just as border abolition is inextricably linked to prison abolition, prison abolition must include justice for the vast diaspora of those who have been separated from their friends, families, and communities by border enforcement. Without such constraints, their disproportionate power produced exactly what one would expect: gangsterism. Very minimal writing or notations in margins not affecting the text.
