The plot-lines are at times not unlike those of soap operas - but I don't want to spoil the surprises, so I'll leave it at that. Originally published in The Colored American Magazine, America's first monthly periodical covering African American arts and culture, Hagar's Daughter: A Story of Southern Caste Prejudice is a groundbreaking novel.

The Magazine Novels of Pauline Hopkins

Sure enough, the next morning Reuel is called to the hospital to see a new patient who appears dead but has no injuries. Contending Forces is a thrilling work of fiction from a true pioneer of American literature, a woman whose talent and principles afforded her the vision necessary for illuminating the injustices of life in a nation founded on slavery and genocide.
