History of Literature

The short story While the short story was not the first fictional genre to make its appearance during the course of the 19th century, it certainly was the first to adapt itself to a new cultural environment, as writers set about using it as a means of illustrating social problems. Unlike some of the other genres already mentioned, the ghazal has remained popular into the modern period. In 2003, a total of 54 female candidates competed for six seats in the parliament, which were located for women based on the quota 6 out of 110.
