Syrian occupation of Lebanon

Politically, the Lebanese felt the need to choose a side in the Syrian war. Even though the right to work is a fundamental human right that should not be denied, it is unlikely that Lebanon will grant it to most Syrians or Palestinians because of its ailing economy. French is also spoken there, but an effort to communicate in the local language is appreciated.

Mandate for Syria and the Lebanon

The United States does not have a bilateral investment treaty with Lebanon or an agreement on the avoidance of double taxation.

Syrians in Lebanon

An immediate consequence of this has been that the flow of dollars from Lebanese banks across the border into Syria has dried up — a situation that is now only likely to intensify.

Refugees In Lebanon

Lebanon is at a crossroads.

Reports: Lebanese Hezbollah Opening Unofficial Border Crossing With Syria

Palestinian refugees were not welcomed easily, the 1951 Refugee convention was not signed, at least in part, to avoid responsibility of Palestinian refugees in Lebanon, and for Lebanon to maintain the autonomy to decide the actions the government wishes to take regarding displaced persons. Although the town, village, and tribe are socially distinct, they depend on each other for services and products and so are related by overall functional ties. The situation has deteriorated significantly since that time.
