Reading a bad book holds few pleasures, but it does make the next good book more enjoyable. The question is what are YOU afraid of? In that sense, Christianity is at odds with strict Darwinian materialism, as opposed to the general theory of evolution, with which there is no conflict.

UNDERSTANDING THE PRESENT

Doors of Perception and Heaven and Hell, both works of nonfiction, were based on his experiences while taking mescaline under supervision.

Their opinions are just as valid as yours. Should we be as dazzled as we are by the innovations, the insights, and the miraculous improvements in material life that science has wrought? Admittedly, he covers all the ground. The unwitting result is that science has cast humankind adrift, paralyzing us with fear and cutting us off from personal or religious truth.

UNDERSTANDING THE PRESENT

I'm not denying a god's existence and I have no intention of offending you in any way whatsoever, but could you link these events or explain any possible scientific out look on these things? They have long legs that allow them to jump up to 13 inches 200 times their own body length, making them one of the best jumpers of all known animals.

Literature and Science

Does anything endure the ravages of time? Do you actually have any evidence of these events at all? It denies the higher nature of our spiritual selves. Internalizing this principle would inevitably produce concrete practical applications, such as standing against slavery and human trafficking.

Someone has to call the shots.

Space and time are simply the mind's tools for putting it all together.

Sorehead

In a brilliant and explosively controversial work, the author attacks modern science for destroying our spiritual sense of self. An extreme dissociation of the personality due to the activity of unconscious complexes that are completely disconnected from consciousness.
