

Scientific article in the age of digitization

Springer - Parenting Kids in the Age of Screens, Social Media and Digital Devices

Description: -

- Research

Communication in science

Scientific literature -- Electronic publishing scientific article in the age of digitization

- The planets

Information science and knowledge management -- v. 11 scientific article in the age of digitization

Notes: Includes bibliographical references (p. 227-257) and index.

This edition was published in 2007

Filesize: 51.69 MB

Tags: #Bridging #the #Age

The reproducibility crisis in the age of digital medicine

Making the internet a healthy space means analysing our modes of being and everyday engagements in the digital realm and this itself can be stressful. About seven-in-ten parents ages 50 and older 71% say parenting is harder today, versus 66% of 30- to 49-year-old parents and 60% of those ages 18 to 29. Students will need to sift through multiple perspectives on the Internet, and ultimately decide which perspectives are valuable and useful for their purpose.

The Reading Brain in the Digital Age: The Science of Paper versus Screens

The TV was always on in the background while he played intense online video games on his laptop, while also continuously texting or messaging others about the game. There is always something sticky there.

Research in the Digital Age: It s More Than Finding Information...

They should sleep, even shower with the watch in place.

Stories From Experts About the Impact of Digital Life

Particularly, it recognizes the shift of our view of information technology in tourism research from a primarily a marketing-driven tool to a knowledge creation tool due to new technological conditions such as the smartphone, drone, wearables, new connectivity and big data.

Bridging the Age

In of the University of Leicester and her colleagues asked 50 British college students to read study material from an introductory economics course either on a computer monitor or in a spiral-bound booklet. Deborah Coe Deborah Coe, a coordinator of research services based in the U. At Hopkins, allegations of scientific misconduct have declined from a high of 14 in 2007 to only five in 2010.

From digitization to the age of acceleration: On information technology and tourism

When I am at work, I cannot be present when technology reminds me of friends and family. At the , staff use the adjustment features in Photoshop to examine all images in accepted manuscripts for signs of manipulation, according to executive editor Liz Williams.

---

Related Books

- Europe, mother of revolutions. - Translated from the German by Charles Kessler and Jennetta Adcock.
- Conferencias pronunciadas el 11 de junio de 1970.
- Readymade garment industry in India - a study of problems and prospects.
- Ma'ziq al-taswiyah al-siyāsīyah lil-širā' al-'Arabī al-Isrā'īlī
- Insulin resistance, metabolic diseases, and diabetic complications - proceedings of the 7th European