British Caymanian Insurance Company Limited (CG BritCay)

People have had to support late loved ones by funding the coffin, securing the burial plot, paying for the funeral and associated venues, as well as flowers and catering. They will claim that you may be entitled to some form of compensation. If you outlive the term, your cover ends, and you get nothing back.

It can also simply be left as a gift. One of the best ways to avoid this situation is by doing your research and investing in protection and a plan for the future.

Find Insurance

Your family can sign away the responsibility of your body to the council. It sells insurance to cover car, home, pet, life, business and travel. We start to lose close friends and family over the years, which brings things into sharper focus — anyone who has said goodbye to a loved one knows how expensive it can be.

British Insurance Ltd

She believes that the young and the old are very alike and both need a little love and comfort. That means no medical or health checks required.
