OCLC Classify

To learn more about FAST, please visit the on OCLC. Classify provides a user interface and a machine service for assigning classification numbers and subject headings. The UPC appears as a barcode symbol with 12 digits printed below it.

OCLC Classify

Classification schemes are used to provide a systematic arrangement of materials. ISBN An ISBN is a unique number assigned to an item by its publisher.

OCLC Classify

Enter ISBNs with our without hyphens. FAST headings provide additional subject information about a work and enable you to search the Classify database by subject. Each ISBN is a 10 or 13 digit number.

OCLC Classify

The database is searchable by many of the standard numbers associated with books, magazines, journals, and music and video recordings. The classification numbers applied to books and other materials are used to arrange items on shelves and to support browsing, filtering and retrieval of bibliographic information in online systems.

OCLC Classify

OCLC does not sell books and the actual content is not provided in our database. The Classify prototype helps librarians apply classification numbers to resources in library collections.
