Concepts and experiences in framing, integration and evaluation of One Health and EcoHealth

On Day 1, participants will use examples from their own experience to apply the essential infrastructure elements of collaboration, leadership and resource allocation to a real life, evaluation situation. Policy Analysis, Implementation and Evaluation Instructor: Description: Policy drives the decisions and actions that shape our world and affect the wellbeing of individuals around the globe. Overview of the Policy Studies Literature.

Policy Studies: Integration and Evaluation by Stuart S. Nagel, Paperback

This means that we need to have options beyond the traditional approaches e. Within a framework of common evaluation questions, statistical procedures and principled data inquiry will be explored. The course provides an overview of two training program evaluation frameworks: 1 the Kirkpatrick model and modifications, which emphasizes participant reaction, learning, behavioral application and organizational benefits, and 2 the Concerns-based Adoption Model CBAM, a diagnostic approach that assesses stages of participant concern about how training will affect individual job performance, describes how training will be configured and practiced within the workplace, and gauges the actual level of training use.

Evaluation Approaches and Techniques

Case examples will be used throughout the course to illustrate course content.

Evaluation Approaches and Techniques

Therefore, the focus in utilization-focused evaluation is on intended use by intended users. Another type of policy analysis is labeled professional and is intended to have more direct short-term influence on policy, often using data from previous evaluations and extrapolating results to a new setting. Important complexity concepts with implications for evaluation include uncertainty, nonlinearity, emergence, adaptation, dynamical interactions, and co-evolution.

Evaluation Approaches and Techniques

First, it attempts to integrate the basic ideas that relate to policy studies. Many approaches qualify but common examples include participatory evaluation, empowerment evaluation, and culturally responsive evaluation.
