Lunch Poems Quotes by Frank O'Hara

Along with John Ashbery, Kenneth Koch, James Schuyler and Barbara Guest, he is considered an original member of the New York School. The correspondence between Lawrence and Frank is great.

Lunch Poems

The three-day wonder of the flowering plum! Before O'Hara, my favorite poets were largely depressing goths, wallowing in booze, despair, and self-hatred. Essential poems by the late New York poet.

Lunch Poems Quotes by Frank O'Hara

Like a true flaneur, with poems in my pocket and a steady supply of cigarettes, coffee, and alcohol-- I conquered apathy by swallowing it whole. Ave Maria A pitch to the mothers of America to let their children make mistakes even the more serious ones. Then onto the avenue where skirts are flipping above heels and blow up over grates.

Paul Muldoon Lunch Poems

As they were standing on the side of the road, figuring out what to do, a young twenty-something drove by and hit O'Hara with his car. Please don't steal this idea, there may be money in it.

Lunch Poems by Frank O'Hara, Paperback

Joy and a love that's not in the abstract, but in the concrete everyday, and brings out joy and a love in me. I think he succeeds in expressing his thoughts through poetry, but were we, the readers, successful in grasping the purpose? O'Hara was 40 years old, just starting to be on the literary scene, he and a group of friends were on Fire Island, in New York, and their vehicle broke down.

Lunch Poems by Frank O'Hara

It is the day after death, the first of many days fate denied her.

Paul Muldoon Lunch Poems

Some of the poems are hard to decipher contextually but the vast majority are straightforward enough for self-interpretation for a lay reader like myself.

Lunch Poems by Frank O'Hara

My celebrated pamphleteer, Co-author of such volumes As Blood on the Rose, The Dream and the Drums, And How It Happened Here, Would pour some untroubled Muscatel And settle back in his cane chair.
