If right away how do I prevent distorting the figure while I carve away the inside? The question is how to do that. Firing basically means baking the clay in a kiln. Firstly, let's see the meaning of art and craft.

Art Propelled: ORGANIC MASTERPIECES IN CLAY

Vitrification makes the clay less porous and stronger. The only problem with this manner is I have to figure out how to join the 2 pieces back together seamlessly. Whilst others throw pots that are so large they have to be throw in sections and joined together.

Update for best homemade clay recipe: Wendy Grazier shared her experience making the clay with my recipe. After the 2 pieces were joined I started adding coiled pieces to build up the neck, shoulders, legs, face, tail etc.

r/Sculpture

It is now become my favorite clay for sculpting, not just for making miniature or small figurine. These temperatures range from 1040C 1904F , to 1170C 2138F. Especially when working with children with trauma, I have had clients that acknowledged that there were important things that they were not yet ready to discuss in therapy.

Clay

I've added few spoons of rice flour and any brand in equal measurement to my best homemade clay when kneading. This density makes it brittle rather than strong.
