Decolonization and African Society by Frederick Cooper

Frederick Cooper gathers a vast range of archival sources in French and English to achieve a truly comparative study of colonial policy toward the recruitment, control, and institutionalization of African labor forces from the mid 1930s, when the labor question was first posed, to the late 1950s, when decolonization was well under way. It will remain a standard reference for years to come, and future students of African labor history, nationalism and decolonization will have to grapple with the many challenges it poses.
