He was surprised to see me-he said he thought we had all been killed.

Remand (detention)

Prisoners are subjected to severe overcrowding, inadequate water, poor diet, substandard bedding, and deficient health care. The Children and Young Persons Act 1933 permitted fostering and probation supervision of a child in need of care and protection and the Criminal Justice Act 1948 abolished whipping but introduced Detention Centres. Some of the existing buildings, including Trinity House School, will be retained, providing a total of 167 places when both stages of the project are completed.
