'Very unhealthy' air quality alert effect in Puget Sound until Thursday

One of the first guided discussions we had was what are the different intersections of environmental justice. These marginalized communities have been facing these issues for decades and some have been active in trying to fix these problems. These four strategies include: 1 improve system and operation efficiencies, 2 reduce the growth of vehicle miles traveled VMT , 3 transition to lower greenhouse gas fuels, 4 improve vehicle technology.

Air Quality

Rosa Vela is always on alert, watching for signs her five-year-old daughter, Lettie, is having trouble breathing. It is estimated that 35,000 commute to work in downtown Tacoma each day, of those, only 7,000-10,000 live downtown.

Bacteria

The two recent studies released in February come on top of a of the Duwamish Valley completed in 2008 that showed elevated cancer risks from airborne toxics occur across a wide swath of south Seattle from Seward Park to the western shores of West Seattle.
