Elizabeth Raleigh

If you can help me out it would mean the world to me. I would also add that Elizabeth's ladies did more than play music, dance and dress the queen, although dressing the queen could take a couple of hours.

Sir Christopher Hatton

The Maids of Honour of Queen Victoria are all young ladies of good family, who are selected by Her Majesty herself. He was fined and imprisoned in 1568. Her sister Phillipa was married to Geoffrey Chaucer and both served as ladies in waiting.

Tudor Q and A: Question from Elizabeth

She was high in favor under Queen Mary, but under Queen Elizabeth she was under arrest on three separate occasions, once on suspicion of witchcraft and treason, once because her son, Lord Darnley, had married Mary, Queen of Scots, and once because she conspired to marry her other son, Charles, to Elizabeth Cavendish. It is possible that soon after that she became part of the household of Queen Kathryn Parr, but she was with Mary Tudor after Mary became queen in 1553. She is in mentioned in royal clothing warrants for 1497 and 1498 and on one occasion received two gowns, a kirtle, a bonnet, a doublet, and other items.

Tudor Q and A: Question from Sarah

By the late 1590s, Essex was convinced that they and their friends comprised a narrow cabal of evil councillors and corrupt politicians, who were poisoning the queen against him. Portrait: While another copy is elsewhere identified as Mary Hill, Mrs.

Lady of the Privy Chamber

Ladies in waiting were not maids in the strictest sense: they had servants of their own.

Lady of the Bedchamber

When the King was not present, the Queen would usually dine with her ladies in her presence chamber.

English Historical Fiction Authors: Bedchamber Ladies and Maids of Honour at the Late Stuart Court

Either father is a mistake for brother, or it was Richard Grosvenor the younger who fathered Dorothy.
