The Primacy of Politics and the Protection of Civilians in UN Peacekeeping Operations

In the Certain Expenses case the International Court of Justice ICJ confirmed the legality of UN peacekeeping operations.

The Politics of Action for Peacekeeping

Universality of consent becomes even less probable in volatile settings, characterized by the presence of armed groups not under the control of any of the parties, or by the presence of other spoilers. Another normative concept closely related to the Protection of Civilians is the so-called Responsibility to Protect R2P, which covers three sets of responsibilities—the duty to prevent, to react, and to rebuild—which become applicable in cases of genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes, and ethnic cleansing. As a result, a U.

The Primacy of Politics and the Protection of Civilians in UN Peacekeeping Operations

This project aims to provide the UN and its partners with clear, evidence-based approaches for facilitating political resolutions to conflict and a rigorous methodology for assessing the impact of political interventions. Traditional peacekeeping is narrow in scope and range of activities.

What is peacekeeping

As of 30 June 2019, there are 100,411 people serving in UN peacekeeping operations 86,145 uniformed, 12,932 civilian, and 1,334 volunteers.
