What this study adds is an understanding of how social housing providers offering interventions such as Housing+ may improve the mental health and wellbeing of their tenants. Conclusions This project has shown that an administrative housing database can be used to form a large cohort population and successfully link cohort members to their health records in a way that meets confidentiality and ethical requirements.

Applications

Furthermore, an estimated 51% of homeless children are younger than 6 years and may not be accurately counted, as they do not attend school.

Social housing applicants will 'move out

This particularly applies to information on the number of people living in the applicant and tenant households.
