Round the Horne

The cost fell from £601 a show in series 3 to £486 in series 4. He is best known for his own stand-up and as the character Sidekick Simon in Mid Morning Matters and This Time, both with Alan Partridge. The series was due to begin in April 1958, but in February Horne suffered a debilitating ; he was temporarily paralysed down his left-hand side and lost the power of speech.

The programme was first transmitted on on 13 June 2004 and was repeated ten times on Four or over the next four years. Her cookery column in the Daily Telegraph, 'Bon Vivreur' ran for 35 years and her cookery programmes - which she presented in evening gown, drop ear-rings, pearls, and thick make-up, booming orders at her partner Johnnie, a gentle, monocled stooge who was portrayed as an amiable drunk - were watched by millions.

Round the Horne

He is a man with ill-fitting ; his diction distorts all sibilants, and sprays saliva in all directions.
