Reports & Corporate Information

The Committee recommends that the Procurement Board takes steps both to consolidate all Northern Ireland public sector procurement opportunities within the remit of the SourcingNI web portal, including local government tender notices, and to integrate tendering opportunities in Great Britain and the Republic of Ireland.

Nelson's View: November 2012

Many tenants felt that the landlord was not justified in retaining any of the deposit. The standards in this scheme, however, are acknowledged to be basic and local authorities have not been active in enforcing statutory regulations. That should have been done much sooner.

Inquiry into Housing in Northern Ireland

Whilst much of the existing housing legislation has mirrored legislation passed in GB, there are also many provisions that have not been introduced due to the special circumstances that exist in Northern Ireland. The beneficiaries of this purpose are people living in Northern Ireland who require access to housing and accommodation. In Northern Ireland, however, housing provision and management has been highly politicised and controversial and there has been little change in the way social housing has been managed for over 25 years.

It is also proposed that the facility to write off construction costs or refurbishment costs against rental income for tax purposes should be extended to all types of private rented sector properties. .

NIE Finance plc: Annual Financial Report

The Committee anticipates that the views of such businesses, however, have been reflected in the submissions, both written and oral, from the various umbrella and industry organisations working in this area. It is estimated that there are 185,000 students, trainees, student nurses and others in tertiary education in Northern Ireland. There has been a call for the statutory standard of unfitness in Northern Ireland to be revised to include more measures of condition and to provide an effective measurement of non-traditional stock.
