Therefore, anything coming from al-Zuhri and Ibn Ishaq would enjoy credibility than al-Waqidi whose credibility is disputed and injured majruh. The One who gathers together that which had been dispersed. BSOAS, XXII, I, 1950 Ibn Sayyid al-Nas, vol.

Muhammad Ibn ‘Umar al

Secondly, al-Zuhri and Ibn Ishaq have narrated very few reports in the way that al-Waqidi had adopted. The One who composes, arranges and connects together. Conclusion Consequently, it becomes clear that al-Waqidi was not acceptable in Hadith and important religious injunctions such as the question concerning permissible halal and impermissible haram but was acceptable in the Maghazi and Siyar and in such events of early history which did not run against the principles of historical evidence or personal bias.

Al Habib Muhammad Al Baghir bin Alwy bin Yahya

From the root j-m-' which has the following classical Arabic connotations: to collect, gather up to congregate, gather together to draw together, muster to reconcile, to connect together, combine to form a connection between, union to compose, arrange, resolve or settle something This name is used in the Qur'ān. We have abandoned his Hadith.
