World's Largest Private Vintage Aircraft Collection

Fine in a very good dustrwapper with chips on the spine and some toning.

Pensacola WWII veteran Dick Pace takes to skies in vintage plane

We have worked with Platinum Fighter Sales, Inc Platinum over the past several years on various aircraft sales and purchases. His plane flew over Pensacola Beach and Naval Air Station Pensacola, including the runway and National Naval Aviation Museum.

Warbirds (Historical, Veteran & Vintage Military Aircraft)

Since his naval career ended after World War II, Pace has donated all of his memorabilia, including his flight suit, to the National Naval Aviation Museum.

Vintage Aircraft For Sale

Pace was gifted a flight in a 1943 North American SNJ with the GEICO Skytypers Air Show Team for the holidays.

Vintage WWII B

I believe that the Hercules engine on the Freighter has more attachments to it than the variant on the Beaufighter so that makes for big problems because there isn't a lot of room for movement with the Beaufighter. Illustrated from black and white photographs.

Manchester Airport Planes

We're all here to honor him. On a side note the restoration of the Bristol Beaufort is proceeding well in Queensland and the aim is to get that back in the air as well. Robert advised that HARS has a couple of original engines and with the spares obtained from NZ they will be able to rebuild them to get the aircraft in the air again.
