Although some questions can be confusing at times, most of them are short and most importantly fun to attempt. Here is a summary: An international company laid a fiber-optic cable completely encircling the Earth, by chance running through a new, privately owned chicken farm in the city of Minsk the capital of Belarus.

The chickens refuse to walk or fly over the cable and will only pass under it. I often find myself stuck on simple questions, but peering into the solutions has opened up new ways of thinking which also prompts me to look at areas of interest that I have never come across before. I even added a graphic that showed the additional diameter created by the problem of 2 feet.
