Academics

Approving course substitutions, turning in the year's schedule, signing up new majors, and all the other small tasks of the chair need to be done, but the real satisfaction of the job comes from things like shepherding a young colleague through the probationary years, conducting a successful search, or re-thinking the department's curriculum. Conflicts of Interest Each PI must complete the CUNY Significant Financial Interest SFI Disclosure Form for research projects and submit it to the Grants Office at the time that the PI submits a grant proposal or application. There is much to balance as chair: the small tasks with the large vision, and also the job of chair with the continuing jobs of teacher and scholar.

ERIC

The offers subject guides and information regarding all aspects of Library service. False statements made with knowledge of their falsity or in reckless disregard of the truth are not entitled to constitutional protection, and public statements may be so without foundation as to call into question the fitness of the faculty member to perform his or her duties. Role model Colleagues will look to you as a model, and they will see what you're doing in all kinds of ways.

Faculty Handbook

This support includes both services and resources.

Role of Department Chairs

The full policy is found in the 18-2019 catalog pages 40-42; the first paragraph of the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity reads: Academic dishonesty is prohibited in The City University of New York. Research Compliance Queensborough Community College is committed to the responsible and ethical conduct of research.

ERIC

The library supports faculty members who wish to become involved in eLearning or convert their courses to Zero Textbook Cost. The QCC IRB Human Research Protection Program HRPP Coordinator is Dr.
