In the mid-thirteenth century, the Mongols — who learned the gunpowder from the Chinese and used Chinese artillerymen in their armies — transferred it to the Islam

Werner, Heinz

Fine highways and waterways fostered overseas trade, but so did a change in the taste of the young sovereign Hsüan Tsung, who, at the beginning of his reign had an immense pile of precious metals, stones, and fabrics burned on the palace grounds to signalize his contempt for such expensive trifles. The five tribes of machine learning offer relevant comparisons: While symbolists take deduction as the inverse of learning, inspired by philosophy, logic and psychology, connectionists compare the brain with the engineer, influenced by physics and neuroscience.
