The aim of this article is to present a summary of research on earthen architecture and its characteristics in light of current data while proposing a first chrono-cultural approach to the forms of raw earth dwellings during the Neolithic and Bronze Age.

Geographia Polonica (1964) vol. 1

Du point de vue de la géomorphologie, il semblait que l'on pouvait espérer en tirer, a priori, un double bénéfice : 1. These habitats include: maritime cliffs and slopes, coastal saltmarsh, coastal vegetated shingle, lowland heath and littoral communities. Regional Conference on Geomorphology and VIth Brazilian Symposium on Geomorphology, Goiânia Brésil , 6-10 septembre 2006, communication orale.
