Treaty of Taipei

Pacific Asia has to develop close relationships with its market partners not only in terms of business but also in terms of sharing and reshaping more universal cultural values.

Protocol to the San Francisco Peace Treaty

It is shameful that the people of Japan and its present government neglect the traditional Japanese culture of honour and subsequent obligations. Importantly, though, the United States by 2001 had yet to become a contracting party to the 1998 International Convention for the Suppression of Terrorist Bombings 24 contracting states or the 1999 Convention for the Suppression of the Financing of Terrorism 3 contracting states. Charles Louis Kades, Deputy Chief of the GS, tried to hinder the emergence of a second Yoshida cabinet, but failed.

US State Department

The election of President Chen Shui-bian in March 2000 has started a period in which the Taiwanese can finally openly discuss the future of their island, although threats and intimidation by China continue.
