

East-west relations in the 1980s

Canadian Institute for International Peace and Security - The End of Détente

Description: -

-East-west relations in the 1980s

-
Working paper (Canadian Institute for International Peace and Security) East-west relations in the 1980s

Notes: Bibliography: p. 102-103.
This edition was published in 1988

Filesize: 20.96 MB

Tags: #1980 #Democratic #Party #Platform

The End of Détente

On that, above all, we have to decide. Energy—Our dependence on foreign oil has decreased—in 1977 we imported 8. We further pledge to work for programs to improve the health and safety of pregnancy and childbirth, including adequate prenatal care, family planning, counseling, and services with special care to the needs of the poor, the isolated, the rural, and the young.

Political leadership in the Cold War's ending: Thatcher and the turn to engagement with the Soviet Union

His commitment to human rights, peace and non-violence stands as a monument to humanity and courage. In September 1984, the Soviet Union also prevented a visit to West Germany by East German leader.

East

If the movement toward socialism made the world more tense by evoking dangerous countermoves from other states, what should the Soviet Union do? The Democratic Party pledges to strengthen the nation's mass transit systems. In the 1980s, this program can be improved, as the framework laid in the last four years is used to ensure our energy security for all time.

Cooperation of the superpowers during détente

Perhaps most important, the Democratic Party is committed to the principle of equal pay for work of comparable value. The Democratic Party has a proud record of responding to the human needs of our citizens.

1980 Democratic Party Platform

Both sides were convinced of their own moral superiority. The current Democratic Partnership has continued that tradition while restraining the growth of the federal budget.

Political leadership in the Cold War's ending: Thatcher and the turn to engagement with the Soviet Union

Teenage inner city unemployment is at disastrous levels of 50 percent or higher.

The End of Détente

We hereby make a covenant with the elderly of America that as we have kept the Social Security trust fund sound and solvent in the past, we shall keep it sound and solvent in the years ahead. Both Soviet and American observers often accused their Cold War opponents of such squalid motives. We must oppose special interest efforts to undermine the ability of federal agencies to protect consumers, the environment, or public health and safety; and efforts to enable federal agencies to override or exempt state or federal protections of the environment or public health and safety.

The Soviet

This, the Americans assumed, would take between eight and 15 years, given the wartime devastation the Soviet Union had suffered. After eight years of Republican government and systematic Republican efforts to dismantle all of the hard-won New Frontier and Great Society social programs, the Garter Administration and the Democratic Congress have resurrected, preserved and strengthened those programs which have proven effective. Asylum-seeker and refugee flow into capitalist society increases.

Related Books

- Identification and characterization of a tomato \(*Lycopersicon esculentum*\) histone H1 genomic clone
- Historia del humor gráfico en Venezuela
- Apollinaire.
- Individual rights and the State in foreign affairs - An international compendium \(Praeger special st
- Inorganic titrimetric analysis - contemporary methods