Instead, this is a presentation of pinyin's erhua forming.

Wade

The Chinese themselves experimented with several systems to transcribe local expressions for non-Chinese publications, but in mainland China these were all replaced officially in 1979 by the clearer system.

Attention: this is not a full table of all existing syllables of erhua.

Pinyin table

Table of all sounds in Standard Chinese This pinyin table is a complete listing of all syllables used in. Not all 4 tones exist for each syllable.

Pinyin table

Pinyin replaced the traditional systems of several ethnic minorities in China and has been used to document the previously unwritten languages of many more; a number of nonstandard characters have been devised to the writing of names transliterated from non-Chinese languages.

對照表

After the communist takeover of China in 1949, work on a script reform was begun. A few readings reflect a Standard Chinese approximation of a regionalism that is otherwise never encountered in either putonghua or guoyu.
