Greek Atrocities In Ottoman Vilayet Smyrna 1

But the Archdeacon scornfully rejected the proposition saying that he preferred to die than to deny Christ. On February 1st, 1919, soldiers have killed Hadji Elia of Kerassound, Persefs K.

U.S. Department of State

Killing a sick man, too sick to walk, and shooting a dead body is another dimension of Greek cruelty, blood-thirstiness and savagery against fellow human beings. On June 12th, Theodosios Mamnis from Scalanova, a miller in the town of Kamarya , was killed by Zeibeks.

Gunduz Aktan: our problem with Greece insolvable because it is

As it appears also from the information furnished by the commandant of the region of Aivalik to the competent authorities, on the 7th instant, at the time when I was at Pishaya on official business, a band of four or five hundred Hellenic horsemen came to the village of Salihler which had been evacuated by the inhabitants the same morning. Bands of armed Turks appeared and the peasants did not venture to move from one village to another, fearing they may fall into these hands. The same things take place in the interior of Anatolia.

Papers Relating to the Foreign Relations of the United States, With the Annual Message of the President Transmitted to Congress December 8, 1908

We protest then energetically and with indignation against the doings of the Hellenic army which since its landing, has not ceased a moment from perpetrating the most unheard of abominations. The latter region was influenced by Persian history and culture, and moving the capital was part of the Persian mawali demand for Arab influence in the empire.

Zaher Fallahi OFAC Attorney in Los Angeles & Orange County

This would change Britain's perception of the world, and its response was The Great Game.

VA Claims & Separation Benefits

The Greek occupation with all its attendant horrors and crimes has fallen also on the vilayet of Smyrna. Like other TM perpetrators, Seydi Bey himself had profited from the atrocities. Jordan Kademoglu and robbed everything in it, worth about 1200 liras.
