Intellectual History

Thus the period also marks the institutionalisation of Arabic studies. The course will also introduce students to the tools of historical research—from posing a research question, to evaluating primary and secondary sources to annotating sources and compiling a bibliography, that is, students will learn the building blocks of how to approach and write a humanities research paper.

Intellectual History

Prerequisite: Earned credit or concurrent enrollment in HMST 101 IHST 257-IH2 Contemporary Russia This course explores ways of conceptualizing the Russian experience in the 20th and 21st centuries, spanning the Soviet and post-Soviet periods. It considers Andrew Carnegie, Carl Schmitt, Hans Morgenthau, George Kennan, Samuel Huntington, Paul Wolfowitz and many other thinkers and practitioners who have contributed in shaping the ways in which we have come to think of US foreign policy over the years.

Thus in every phase of the development of historical thinking the question arises: were these fictional elements recognized and if so, how was their function perceived? Letters by Edward Browne 1644-1708 , passages from the journal of John Locke 1632-1704 and the financial accounts of the third Earl of Orrery 1670-1703 take the reader through most of the provinces and give a first-hand impression of what travel was like for various categories of tourists in those days. In this course, we will examine the writings of modern and contemporary political theorists and consider their- and our- responses to these urgent questions, among others.

Attention is paid to the origin and development of the Chinese writing system, the format and materials of early manuscripts, as well as the emergence of ink-brush calligraphy as a uniquely Sinitic art form. Materialist, ideational and electoral explanatory strategies account for Labour's ideological trajectory in factors exogenous to the party. It does not re-examine the history of literary theories and poetics.

Brill's Studies in Intellectual History Online

It considers the number of citations received by a journal and the importance of the journals from where these citations come. Comments on the reviewed articles will be sent to the author. A third major development was the change of discourse which was brought about by the advent of humanism in both Latin and vernacular culture.
