Wu wei dao shi — Calisphere

Berkeley: University of California Press, 2012. Mao disagreed with the new leadership, believing they grasped little of the Chinese situation, and he soon emerged as their key rival. Hong Kong-based historian , challenged the notion that Mao did not know about the famine throughout the country until it was too late: The idea that the state mistakenly took too much grain from the countryside because it assumed that the harvest was much larger than it was is largely a myth—at most partially true for the autumn of 1958 only.

Ping Yao, Xin Shi Qi Deng Xiaoping Zhan Lue Si Xiang Yan Jiu

The resulting tension between Khrushchev at the head of a politically and militarily superior government , and Mao believing he had a superior understanding of Marxist ideology eroded the previous patron-client relationship between the and the CCP.
