Emotions help us humans to communicate what we feel toward certain situations, people, things, and cope with everyday life situations. There are many ways to conceptualize this increased awareness of and control over the expression of feelings.

Emerging Adulthood: Defining the Developmental Stage

Sigmund Freud Sigmund Freud was a Viennese physician who developed his psychosexual theory of development through his work with emotionally troubled adults. If infants are treated cruelly or their needs are not met appropriately, they will likely grow up with a sense of mistrust for people in the world.

What Are Feelings?

At each stage there is a crisis or task that we need to resolve. Middle adulthood spans the years between ages 40-65.

What Are Feelings?

Emerging adults often report feeling not-quite-adult but not-quite-adolescent.
