For the love of pushing pedals

In the full model, all Hedonism items had satisfactory parameter estimate sizes standardised: 0.

My Cycle, My Mobility Aid: recognising cycles as a mobility aid

At speed it will blow your mind! This is what drives me at this point, to get in the saddle.

Cycling heaven and Hull: can the city recapture its 1950s pedal power heyday?

The results presented in Fig. For starters the fixed spring tension was increased from 8nm to 10nm giving the pedal a bit more security and a more positive feeling engagement and dis-engagement.

A push for public health: the effect of e

It is not worth risking anyone's life over catching the breakaway on a group ride. That means not creating more work for those around you by allowing gaps to open, failing to pull through, and generally failing to ride in a smooth and predictable manner. Today Tuesday, 24 September inclusive cycling charity Wheels for Wellbeing launches its campaign My Cycle, My Mobility Aid.

Cycling heaven and Hull: can the city recapture its 1950s pedal power heyday?

Northern Ireland: car and cycle use, average per person per year during 2016-2018 Car driver Cycle All modes Average number of trips 439 7 903 Average mileage 3,434 32 5,868 Average trip length miles 7. Including them would have improved the model fit, and would thus have rendered the p-value significant as it should ideally be , but would not have altered the main conclusions below.

Cycling UK's Cycling Statistics

The above table, which covers recent years — but not always the same ones — is therefore indicative of the share that cycling enjoys or does not enjoy , compared to other ways of travelling. Although most tables relate to GB, some offer figures relating specifically to England, Wales, Scotland and very occasionally to Northern Ireland. The Gran Fondo from Fuji is a perfect example of technology developed for professional level race bikes trickling down into bikes designed for the rest of us.

The UK's best and worst cycling cities

I just go down the middle of the road if I have to. Physical activity variables were Z-standardized, as these were heavily skewed high number of 0 s.
