In addition, financial services firms can only offer their services cross-border in a limited number of sectors, such as certain insurance and banking services. In the final analysis, development cooperation is to enable ACP States, among other things, to make use of the opportunities resulting from import liberalization by strengthening the national supply capacity of these States, and to minimize the risks of import liberalization. At the same time, the EU backed up its political commitment with concrete action: it promotes democratization measures by assisting, for example, in elections, or suspends cooperation in the event of serious violations of human rights or democratic principles, if required.
