Missionary to China: How Christians Are Responding to Dangerous COVID

The Church hierarchy was not pleased with liberation theology and only toned down its opposition over time. But the fact remains that in both SARS and COVID-19, some Chinese authorities have put social stability over the welfare and health of the people. The borders to China have been effectively closed and everyone coming from China, including HK citizens, must be quarantined for two weeks; all schools have been canceled; and all civil servants and many in other professions such as those working with banks work from home.

China Appoints New Hong Kong Chief Known for Christian Persecution

When the altar call was given, in both services, dozens came forward to rededicate their lives to the Lord, to accept Christ and receive healing. He's the author of China's Opening Door: Incredible Stories of the Holy Spirit at Work in One of the Greatest Revivals in Christianity.

The Enduring Church : Christians in China and Hong Kong by Christopher Herlinger, Gail V. Coulson and Camille S. Anders (1995, Hardcover) for sale online

We have testimonies of Christians in Wuhan who were affected with the virus receiving healing through prayer. The group was taken while traveling in Tawari, Kogi state, by men reported to be Fulani Militants.

ChinaAid: ChinaAid welcomes two dissidents to safety

Despite the title, this last piece also gives more nuances to the role of Catholicism in the umbrella movement: ... there are Catholics who work at all levels of the government, and there are Catholics who are deeply involved in the democratic protests.... At an official level, the Church neither endorses nor condemns the protests.

Missionary to China: How Christians Are Responding to Dangerous COVID

This is an exact repeat of the SARS severe acute respiratory syndrome epidemic in 2003, which killed 774 worldwide and 299 in Hong Kong. In Hong Kong, while there have been 50 proven infections with only one death to date, the whole city is on lockdown and probably over 99% are wearing face masks in public places including church meetings. A 2012 report ... found that of the 1,505 respondents, 16 percent were Protestant and 3.

Hong Kong's 'Guerrilla' Christian Pastors Targeted by China

For example, many believe the wasteful use of natural resources with little or no regard for environmental factors might lead to global warming which results in the melting of glaciers and the flooding of and eventual destruction of some islands, increased serious devastation from hurricanes and so forth. However, the two are often related. Will be a good Reading copy.

ChinaAid: ChinaAid welcomes two dissidents to safety

Growing Crackdowns Religious leaders say hostility toward Christianity peaked under Xi, who became party leader in 2012 and has presided over a crackdown on civil society to quash dissent and establish what academics have termed his. In fact, he already has. Archbishop and many other Catholic leaders spoke out against injustices brought by dictatorship.
