Does the Bible Teach that Human Death is the Result of Sin?

Would full humanity be able to spread to the ends of the earth, even to long-isolated populations, such as in Tasmania? Yet I wish to suggest that the failure of saints and scholars to solve the problem of evil has not been due to insufficient plumbing of the depths of suffering, nor inadequate insight into the mind of God. This was because original sin had not been cleansed by baptism. But ours is not just the best of all possible worlds; it is the only possible world.

Immortality and the Original Sin

In that sense, none of us do what we think we ought to do -- we all fall short of our highest ideals. Chesterton while still an Anglican wrote in his book, Orthodoxy, that original sin is the most obvious of all Christian doctrines.

This, for traditional Christians and certainly for many evangelical Protestant Christians, is the critical issue. When an age is assigned to each fossil, based on radiometric dating plus geological dating of the rock formation where the fossil is found, we observe that fossil anatomy and brain size gradually change from primitive hominids 5 million years ago to anatomically modern humans beginning around 100-200 thousand years ago in Africa, who moved into Europe and East Asia about 40,000 years ago. Simultaneously, the work of biblical scholars confirmed that Genesis had been misread in too literal a fashion, and most educated Christians today accept the fact of evolution.

Even though some Evangelical Protestants may shutter at the term, they readily acknowledge the fall of mankind and accept Jesus Christ as their Savior. Did God create everything recently but make it appear old? Human beings deserve to suffer because the first parents sinned.

Evolution: Religion: Science and Faith

It is unknown whether pre-fall immortality affected just humans or all organisms on earth.
