Federal Coordination And Compliance

For policies and procedures to be effective, new and existing staff should periodically receive training on the content of the language access policy, identifying language access needs, and providing language assistance services to LEP individuals.

Federal Coordination And Compliance

Recipients have asked whether school board members may serve as the hearing or reviewing authority in their own school district. For example, a public housing agency receives a request to install the deadbolt lock on the front door of a unit higher up on the door from a resident whose child has autism. The Section has initiated an aggressive program of intra- and inter-agency consultations and actively solicits comments and suggestions from representatives of recipient and LEP individuals on how to identify and address the needs of LEP individuals under Executive Order 13166 in an efficient and cost-effective manner.

Federal Coordination And Compliance

The Act applies to the vast majority housing, including privately owned housing and housing subsidized by the federal government. Recipients of Federal assistance that are also title III entities must comply with both the section 504 and the title III regulations.

Federally Conducted Programs

As with the use of other non-professional interpreters, the recipient may need to consider issues of competence, appropriateness, conflicts of interest, and confidentiality in determining whether it should respect the desire of the LEP person to use an interpreter of his or her own choosing. The Department is proposing to revise its provisions on assurances from government agencies at current § 42. Answer: An individual with a disability should request an accommodation as soon as it appears that the accommodation is needed.
