history of indian architecture

He brought back an Arab architect with him who designed and built many buildings for the mansa. Sometimes, to augment the space, verandahs are built to skirt the hall.

Short essay on the Buddhist Art and Architecture

They do not contain any of the common to the Nagara style and were built on the same lines as the Virupaksha temple at in Karnataka. Dzongs comprise heavy masonry walls surrounding one or more courtyards. In addition to the Buddha images we come across a number of Bodhisattva images, meaning images of Gautam or Siddhartha before the attainment of knowledge such as the picture of the Great Renunciation, Gautam dressed as a monks, the royal figure with jewels and headdress holding a lotus flower or nectar flask etc.
